LIFE TERM IS PENALTY FOR VERN EDMONDS

Jury Reaches Verdict in 25 Minutes Last Night
Near 10 p. m.

FINISH UP TODAY

Jess Hattor Trial This Afternoon—
Grand Jury Dismissed After Making Number of Indictments

Vernon Edmonds was convicted of first degree murder on the charge of killing Hiram Honeycutt and his punishment was fixed at imprisonment for life by the jury last night. His counsel filed a motion for a new trial late this afternoon.

Arguments on the case were begun late yesterday afternoon and it went to the jury about 9 o'clock. They returned a verdict within twenty-five minutes.

Some features of the case not heretofore mentioned were brought out by the defense yesterday afternoon. Mary Sneed stated that Kate Honeycutt had told her a different story of the affair. Jake Proffitt, brother-in-law of the defendant, stated that the window at the Proffitt home had been left open for him to come in at night so that he would not arouse the household. The point was brought out to show a means for the defendant to leave the house unnoticed.

Burrell Smith, who was in charge of the Edmonds jury, complimented them highly on their conduct while in his charge. To while away the time when they were off duty and not allowed to leave, the aggregate weight of the men was found. The deputy reports that they weighed 2196 pounds, that individually the weights of the men ranged from 155 to 202 pounds.

Trial of Jess Hattor under court rule proceedings was finished this afternoon, though the jury had not reached a verdict at 3 o'clock. He was charged with attempting to prevent appearance of witnesses in a criminal case.

Tom Manning who submitted to a charge of resisting an officer was sentenced to two years of hard labor in the state reformatory by Judge J. G. Forrester this afternoon. The judge expressed the hope that Tom would "turn over a new leaf."

The grand jury made another report this morning and the members were thanked and dismissed by Judge Forrester. It is understood that the greater part of the indictments made were for misdemeanor cases.

It was expected that the proceedings would be finished by 4 o'clock, this afternoon so that members of it could leave on the train a few minutes afterwards.

LOCAL SCRUBS WIN GAME WITH EWING

Rival Team Defeated 26 to 22 In Fast
Game Here Last Night

The High School second team defeated the Ewing High School team last night 26 to 22. The game was a thriller from start to finish. The Ewing boys played a good game but with the exception of one man were rather poor shots. Harris of Ewing was the high point man of the game shooting sixteen points. He was one of the best players on the floor. Gibson was next with twelve points. He and Cleland both played good games. Willis, a guard for the local team also played a fine game. The game was nip and tuck first one team being ahead and then another. It was only in the last few minutes of play that the Middlesboro boys made the victory certain. This was the last game of the season for the scrubs. The final game will play the Pineville Baptists, who are the Church League champs, tomorrow night. This will be the last game of the season.

The line-up:
Middlesboro: Ewing, Stickley, Willis, Bleeding, Cleland (10), (2) Fugate, Brown (4), (4) Harris, Gibson (12), (4) Fulkerston.

DEMOCRAT DARK HORSES TROTTED OUT FOR PUBLIC INSPECTION

WASHINGTON, Mar. 13.—Two dark horses from the same stable have been trotted out within the past week for the inspection of Democratic trainers as possible winners in the Presidential derby.

They are Houston Thompson, chairman of the Federal Trade Commission and Governor William E. Sweet, both of Colorado.

Colonel Edward M. House of New York and Texas, former confidant of President Wilson, is credited with having discovered presidential possibilities in Sweet.

Thompson is let forward by friends who have watched his cause as head of the Federal Trade Commission and who see in him a candidate who has resisted tremendous pressure from big business and thereby especially qualified for the sort of campaign that will be waged this fall.

Thompson, a long lean, good-looking chap of 48, retains the fighting football spirit of his Princeton days. Possibly no one mentioned as a candidate would have stood a better chance on endorsement by Woodrow Wilson, had the former president lived.

Wilson put him on the Trade Commission and later used Governor Sweet to appoint him to the Senate vacancy left by Senator Nicholson's death. Sweet, however, named Alvin Adams.

As chairman of the Trade Commission, Thompson was largely responsible for the filling, with the department of Justice, recommendations for legal actions against large business interests found in the commission to

FIRE AT HOME OF FRANK KEARNS—SLIGHT DAMAGE

A slight damage resulted from a fire at the residence of Frank Kearns on Ester Avenue this morning. The fire originated from a defective fuse, according to the report of the fire department. Only a small damage was done to the interior of a room where the fire occurred, the firemen arriving in time to extinguish it.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14.—Nomination of Curtis D. Wilbur, chief justice of the California supreme court, to be secretary of the navy, was sent to the Senate today by the president.

Acceptance of the naval secretaryship by Curtis D. Wilbur, as reported in press advices, follows the refusal today by former Senator Kenyon, now a federal circuit court judge, to take the same post.

DRIVES 6 DAYS AND NIGHTS, NO STOPS

Star Car Endurance Test Put On by E. P. Nicholson Finishes Today Noon

Sergeant Cole finished his six days and nights continuous drive in a stock Star car in front of the Sentinel building at Knoxville at 12:25 o'clock this afternoon, according to a long distance message from E. P. Nicholson, of the Nicholson-Davis-Brown automobile firm.

The largest crowd ever to greet a public hero was present at the thrilling finish of the grueling drive which lasted 144 hours and 20 minutes. Mr. Nicholson reports that 3,300 miles were covered during the drive, that the gas consumption was a gallon for each 22 miles and the oil a quart for each 800. During the entire drive which lasted from noon Saturday until this afternoon the engine of the car was not stopped.

Sergeant Cole's physical condition was somewhat alarming when he finished the drive. He was unable to talk and a trained nurse was in attendance during the four hours preceding the finish. His temperature was 80. During the six days and nights the driver's left hand was handcuffed to the steering wheel. He has taken only light nourishment during the test period and, of course, has not slept any.

Sergeant Cole was formerly a member of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police and it was during this service that he became injured to hardships, long hours and sleepless nights of cold and hunger.

Mr. Nicholson says that the Star car in which the record drive was made will be run for another six days and nights to further prove its endurance.

POSSE CAPTURES BOY WHO SHOT AND KILLED SISTER

Says He Was Employed to Investigate Mellon, Caraway and Later, Senator LaFollette

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14.—The future wage scale for the Bell coal field has occupied the attention of miners and operators in the vicinity during the past week and several meetings have been held by operators and union men. Allegations have been made by some operators that the union has breached the contract which was to expire April 1 and counter charges have been made by union officials.

It was reported on good authority that M. T. Roach, president of the Kentucky-Tennessee Coal Operators' Association had agreed to sign with the union on a contract which will be a compromise between the 1917 scale and the 1920 scale. Miners of this section held a meeting at the Gaines Theatre this week and reports were made that the general agreement had been ratified but that the question of wages had not been settled definitely. A meeting of a great many operators of this field was held Friday night and it was agreed that the contract would not be signed on the present basis due to the high freight rates which cut off this section in active competition with the northern fields.

The union officials contend that the operators can pay the same rate as the central competitive field. No final agreement between operators other than the Logan Pocahontas Fuel company has been signed, according to operators, while some trouble is anticipated in fields where injunctions have been granted to prevent molestation of non-union workers.

Touching the aircraft case, Means could not say if the case was withdrawn before or after the hundred thousand dollar payment to him. Overpayment in this case by the government of six and a half million was alleged. Payments to Smith, Means said, sometimes were as much as three or four thousand dollars.

A Thought

A faithful man shall abound with blessings; but he that maketh haste to be such shall not be content.—Prov. 28:20.

When faith is lost, when honor dies, the man is dead.—Whittier.

COOPERATE WITH FARMING SECTIONS

Barbourville Kiwanians are making a big forward step this year in a proposed program to devote all their energies toward rural improvement and cooperation with the Knox County farm agent. Poultry shows, dairy projects and encouragement in raising leguminous crops are among the things planned, with emphasis to be placed by the Kiwanian, wherever the county agent directs.

Such a program is indeed a commendable one and the Barbourville Kiwanians' prediction that they will double and treble production is no idle dream. These men have awakened to the agricultural possibilities of their country and intend to put all their heart into its development.

Now if Barbourville Kiwanians put all of their efforts for a year into such a project, wouldn't it be worth consideration by Middlesboro organizations? Our Kiwanis Club and our Merchants' Association are both live organizations and either one of them could take hold of a proposition of this kind and work wonders.

Just across the "mountain," in Tennessee and Virginia both, are the richest of farming lands. Some of the farms are up-to-date and well-equipped, but the largest amount of them are not. These sections should be the most valuable assets of Middlesboro, yet we are constantly ignoring them. We have never made more than half-hearted efforts to show interest in their agricultural products, to help them market their produce or to lend aid toward further development of their farming possibilities. In an age when all facilities are coming more and more to be utilized, ought we to neglect this?

These counties have their farm agents, struggling as best they can to improve farming conditions in their respective districts. Cooperation in their work by Middlesboro organizations would assuredly merit deep appreciation from these men. The individual farmers, even the most prosperous, have met rebuff after rebuff in the past few years of "hard times." They, too, would distinctly appreciate a helping hand from their neighbor. Isn't it a matter for serious consideration by these local organizations?

IGNORANCE CAUSE OF BAD ROADS

One of the factors retarding road development is lack of appreciation of the modern science of highway building and using.

We know too many things about roads which are not so!

Many of our highway ideas are twenty years behind the times. We haven't caught up with the engineer.

For instance, tall roads wear out. The enormous money invested in them is thus a capital loss."

Roads do not wear out. The surface of a good road wears, of course. So does the roof of a house. But replacing the house roof doesn't mean that the rest of the house isn't good. The surface of a road is its roof. If it wears out it must be replaced. But that doesn't mean that the right of way, the grade, foundation, and all the material is any less valuable than at first.

"Trucks destroy roads. Therefore trucks should pay for roads! That, too, is a fallacy. A truck no more destroys a road, when truck and road fit, than a baby carriage destroys a garden path. It is lack of maintenance which destroys roads, it is allowing too light a load to be built for the traffic it will bear, which destroys roads; it is failure to enact wide tire and maximum load laws which destroy roads.

ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth labour into his harvest.

"Since the man who prays Christian prayer is a man who, according to Jesus' teaching, stand between a great friend-with-a-plenty and a friend in need, it follows that he who would pray well must take pain to develop both friendships. He must do what he can to develop his friend's feeling toward God and toward men. He must learn how to absorb from God and how to share tactfully with men. This takes time and thought and the discipline of experience."

MEDITATION: When we look upon the needy world in which we live, with its sorrow and suffering, its want and ignorance, we realize how little we may do. When we see God's great ideal that all men everywhere should live happy and fruitful lives, then well up within our hearts a great longing that God may raise up multitudes of helpers who can reinforce our feeble efforts to bring peace and joy and true living to the world's poor people.

PERSONAL QUESTION: Is it any concern of ours whether other men are right with God?

for national highways. We will all be bankrupt?" More fallacy. There are fourteen million motor cars in the United States. If they are worth an average of $500 each (which is an underestimate), they represent an investment of $7,000,000,000. Did we get bankrupt buying them? We did not! Why should we get bankrupt buying seven billion dollars worth of roads . . . and the interest on seven billions will build today more national highways than we have as yet engineers and machinery to build.

Transportation has been, for Americans, nothing but rail and water for all our history. Now we are compelled to translate the word into "highways" and "motors." Motors we understand . . . highways, as yet, we only partially comprehend, and "motor transport," as a whole, is yet a sealed book to most of us.

The first step in opening it is to get rid of fallacious thinking . . . to realize that what used to be, is no more true today, than what is proper road width and cost today, will fit conditions fifty, a hundred years hence!

Our schedules are even more complicated than railroad schedules.

One reliable sign of spring is when you read about so many being made homeless by devastating floods.

They are solving the oil tangle, but so far it is only about a 5 percent solution.

Chemists, we read, are eking new uses for oil. And so, we guess, are the politicians.

What's become of the old-fashioned health alarm about digging your grave with your teeth? It was a good one.

Thieves got $3,000 which an Alabama farmer hid in his well, proving his confidence was not well placed.

Middlesboro and Pineville, Ky., a few years ago, were willing to fight at the drop of a hat. The old small town rivalry and feud was working overtime. A Kiwanis club was established in each town, golf like put in, the citizens of the two towns began to play together, each to understand that the other was human, and both began to grow. What was to the advantage of one was boosted in the other town, both working for good roads and southeast Kentucky.—Norton Progress.

Roads do not wear out. The surface of a good road wears, of course. So does the roof of a house. But replacing the house roof doesn't mean that the rest of the house isn't good. The surface of a road is its roof. If it wears out it must be replaced. But that doesn't mean that the right of way, the grade, foundation, and all the material is any less valuable than at first.

Middlesboro Woman's Page

Noted Feminist Proves Femininity of Women

JANE GRANT, journalist and magazine writer, member of the Lucy Stone League which believes that women should keep their own names after marriage, proves that a capable woman outside of the home is a capable woman inside the home. She was caught by the photographer cooking a very complicated dish for her husband's dinner.—Southern Fruit Cake, which he admits is his favorite dish. Here is the recipe:

Cream crisco and sugar thoroughly together, then add molasses, cream, flour, soda, eggs well beaten, salt, spices, and fruit. Mix well and turn into greased and papered cake tin and bake in slow oven one and a half hours. Substitute for one large cake:

- 1 cupful sugar
- 1 cupful molasses
- 1/2 cupful sour cream
- 3 cupfuls flour
- 1 teaspoonful salt
- 1/2 teaspoonful baking soda
- 3 eggs
- 1/2 teaspoonful powdered cinnamon
- 1/2 cupful seedless raisins
- 1/2 cupful currants
- 1/2 teaspoonful grated nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoonful powdered cloves
- 1/2 teaspoonful powdered allspice

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Rats and mice are the greatest plagues with which housekeepers must battle. Every builder of a new home should insist that the walls be made rodent proof. The plastering must be brought to the floor, not a crevice left, and a little cement mixed with the lime near the floor line. Cupboards should be plastered carefully. Include this requirement in your contract.

Cement floors on porches, and cement outside steps never require repainting, never need paint, so are well worth the extra cost.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

DAILY MENU FOR THE STOUT AND THIN

LOSE WEIGHT

One large orange, 2 tablespoons dried beef with scrambled eggs, 1 medium sized stuffed tomato, 1-2 head lettuce, 1 broiled sweetbread, 1-2 cup spinach with 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1-2 cup canned peas, 2 tablespoons prune whip, 1 small nut cookie, 1-2 canned pear, 2 thin crisp pieces gluten toast, 1 piece whole-wheat toast, 1 bran roll, 1 pint whole milk.

Total calories, 1014; Protein, 326; fat, 292; carbohydrate, 426. Iron, 14.5.

STUFFED TOMATO

One medium sized tomato, 1 tablespoon sliced celery, 1 tablespoon cottage cheese, 1 tablespoon chopped hickory nuts.

Cut slice from stem end of tomato and scoop out seeds and pulp. Put the seeds and pulp through a strainer to remove seeds. Reserve pulp and juice to moisten, season with salt and pepper and a very little onion juice. Fill tomato with mixture and serve on a bed of lettuce.

Total calories, 149; Protein, 23; fat, 99; carbohydrate, 27; Iron, .004 gram.

GAIN WEIGHT

One large orange, 1 slice salt pork with cream gravy on toast, 1 cup uncooked cereal with sliced banana, 1 cup cream of potato soup, dried beef with scrambled eggs (2 cups), 1 medium sized stuffed tomato, 1-2 head lettuce, 1 veal bird's-nest, 1/2 cup scalloped potatoes with cheese, 1-2 cup spinach with cream sauce, 1-2 cup buttered peas, 4 tablespoons prune whip, 4 tablespoons boiled custard, 4 nut cookies, 1 whole canned pear with 1 tablespoon chopped nuts and 1 tablespoon whipped cream, 2 cornmeal muffins, 2 slices whole wheat bread, 2 slices raisin bread, 1 pint whole milk, 3 tablespoons butter.

Total calories, 3287; Protein, 391; fat, 1182; carbohydrate, 1711; Iron, .0173 gram.

As sweetbreads are very expensive in some places, the veal birds are suggested for the rest of the family.

If the member of the family who is dieting to reduce prefers a hearty breakfast to luncheon, the eggs and dried beef can be used as the breakfast dish and the salt pork with cream gravy for luncheon.

The stuffed tomato is swathed in oil mayonnaise, Neufchatel cheese replaces the cottage cheese, and cream as well as tomato juice moistens the cheese mixture.

YOUR GARDEN

It isn't at all necessary to wait for summer to bring your garden into the same manner as a hotbed except that no manure is placed beneath it to supply heat.

You can start a batch on the weather or by starting plants indoors.

Likewise you can bring them to quicker development weeks ahead of outside conditions by giving them in home-made hotbeds and coldframes.

Such artificial cultivation gives best to gardening.

It will provide you with seedlings and sprouts ready for transplanting long before it is possible to actually set out seeds for the plants in your real garden.

For indoor planting the window box is best. You can start such vegetables as early cabbage, peppers, cauliflower, eggplant, cucumbers, snap beans, lima beans, sweet corn and even melons and beets.

Flower pots, paper bands or berry boxes may be employed for this purpose when only a limited number of plants are wanted.

In fact, any shallow box that may be fitted into the window of a room where there is a reasonable amount of sunshine will answer for starting early plants.

But where only a few cabbage or tomato plants are needed, they may be grown in a cigar box or a shallow tin pan with some holes punched into the bottom for drainage.

Fill the receptacles with finely sifted soil and scatter seeds very thinly in rows. Then cover them with a small quantity of soil. Water very lightly.

Keep the temperature at about 70 degrees. Seedlings should appear in from five to eight days after planting if conditions have been right.

Be sure to turn the boxes daily, as the plants, after they start to come up, are attracted toward the light and will grow crooked unless given a regular change in position.

Just as soon as the seedlings are big enough to handle they should be transferred to larger boxes and given three inches of space in each direction.

Hotbeds and coldframes are used when the number of plants to be grown is too great for convenient accommodation in the indoor window box.

The usual way to prepare a hotbed is to dig a shallow pit in the yard from 8 to 18 inches deep and pack it full of fermenting stable manure.

Then, over the manure, which has been turned once or twice and firmly packed, spread three or four inches of fine garden loam and permit to stand for or five days before planting any seed.

Don't plant in the hotbed until the temperature falls below 85 degrees. Make a test with a thermometer. Water during the early part of the day. Cover the hotbed with glass or heavy muslin.

The hotbed should be ventilated well on warm days, but closed before evening to prevent the heat escaping. In cold weather it should be covered with blankets, canvas or straw at night.

UNSOVED RADIO MYSTERIES

Radio presents more mysteries than any other science. Of these, H. Greenback, noted science writer, points to four outstanding phenomena that are still unsolved.

1 Fading—the dying out of a concert for no apparent reason.

2 Dead Spots—areas in which certain transmitted signals cannot be heard.

3 Crystal Records—records of 500 to 1000 miles in reception made by crystal sets which ordinarily cannot receive more than 25 miles.

4 The oldest, shown held by finger and thumb, is a stone tablet written 2350 B. C. It is said to be a butcher's bill delivered to King Tut's palace. The book in the hollow of the hand is the smallest known.

SAYS NOTHING DISCREDIBLE TO DAUGHERTY

Adams, G. O. P. Chairman, Defends Attorney General

ASSAULTS ACCUSERS

Another Witness Would Associate U.S. Help in Mexican Revolution With Oil Scandal

By Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—Belief that nothing discreditable to Attorney General Daugherty was shown in the Senate investigation was expressed today by Chairman Adams of the Republican National Committee in a formal statement. He asserted a great deal discreditable to his Senate assailants had happened, however.

By Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—During the investigation of Attorney General Daugherty today P. C. Baldwin, of San Antonio, Texas ranger, former Department of Justice agent, told the committee about a report he had referred to Washington that William Hanson in the immigration service at San Antonio, had been to Washington to arrange with certain high officials whereby Washington would sanction the revolution in Mexico if the right people were behind it. In this connection Senator Wheeler said Baldwin's testimony would link in with general scheme of oil interests to foment the revolution in Mexico.

CONDITIONS ON PARK SITE IS COMPLETED

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—The committee named by Secretary Work to select a site for a national park in the southern Appalachian mountains, was completed today with the appointment of William C. Gregg and Harlan P. Kelsey, members of the council of national parks, forests and wild life of New York.

Mr. Kelsey is a landscape architect and represents the Appalachian Mountain club of Boston on the council. Mr. Gregg is a member of the National Arts club of New York and one of the organizers of the council.

FILM ACTRESSES CALLED IN CASE

Mabel Normand and Edna Purviance Subpoenaed in Dimes Shooting Affair

By Associated Press
LOS ANGELES, Mar. 15.—Subpoenas were issued today for Mabel Normand and Edna Purviance, film actresses, for defense examination on a new line of testimony in the Greer Dimes shooting case which will come up again March 19.

JESS HATTON APPLIES FOR PROHIBITION APPOINTMENT

The matter of the vacancy in the prohibition force in this vicinity caused by the tragic death of W. B. Baylor is creating considerable comment in Middlesboro. It is understood that the appointment will be made by Sam Collier, state prohibition officer.

Jess Hatton says he has filed application for the position but has received no information as to whether or not it will be favorably considered. He states that an officer named Lewis in Harlan also has an application for the appointment.

SENATOR MOSS FAILS TO GET JURY BILL THROUGH

FRANKFORT, Mar. 15.—Senator White L. Moss of Pineville made the first attempt to pass the closure rule in the Senate. His motion to suspend the rules and to give a bill which would try jurors $3 a day with $2 extra when kept over night in custody of the Sheriff, its first reading despite the unanimous report of the Rules Committee, failed to carry, because it did not obtain the required 30 votes.

Thirteen senators voted to amend the rules and twelve voted against the motion. This was the first attempt made in the upper house to take any action contrary to the desires of the Rules Committee during the fifteen days of this rule.

HATTON FINED $25 IN CONTEMPT CASE

Suspended Officer Gets Negligent Fine—Juvenile Delinquents Acquitted

Convicted on a technical charge of contempt of court, Jess Hatton, suspended Middlesboro policeman, was fined $25 and costs in circuit court yesterday afternoon, a jury fixing the punishment. The jurors were instructed that the law did not limit the penalty.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Harvey testified that the defendant had approached them with the suggestion that their daughter, an important witness in a criminal charge, be sent away so that she could not appear at the grand jury investigation at Pineville. Mr. Hatton denied these charges.

The relation of the counsel in that case was rather unusual in that father was arrayed against son, Capt. Ben Golden, Commonwealth attorney, vigorously prosecuted the case, while his son Jim Golden, put up a strong fight for the defense.

Bill Collins, Earl Jones and Clarence Burton, boys charged with entering three business establishments here recently and stealing valuable merchandise, were sentenced to one year in the reformatory by a jury late yesterday afternoon.

The jury was hastily summoned while the court officers were preparing to leave. They were instructed that the boys had agreed to submit their case and accept a year's confinement as punishment and they rendered a verdict accordingly. The boys are under sixteen years of age.

The case of F. A. McDaniel who is charged with passing bad checks was continued until another term. His bond which he had not made this morning is fixed at $3,000, according to the circuit clerk. The case of C. P. Pursell, also held on bad check charges, has been continued also. The defendant's bond was fixed at $250 in each case.

The work of the court was concluded late yesterday afternoon.

5-10 CENT STORE TO LOCATE HERE

McElroy Syndicate to Establish Branch Here Soon—Location Plans Tentative

A five and ten cent store will be established in Middlesboro in the near future by the H. A. McElroy company, a chain store syndicate, according to J. Sward, representative who is in town today in the interest of the business.

The matter of location has not been definitely decided, two places being now under consideration. These plans are in the tentative stage as yet.

The McElroy company began business in 1916 and since that time has grown to such an extent that it operates stores in twenty-two towns in Kentucky, Tennessee and Illinois. Though primarily a five and ten cent store, articles up to one dollar are sold.

The store will begin with a regular full-sized stock here. There will be about six regular employees, all local except the manager. On Saturdays, the big business day, for such firms, the force of clerks will be doubled. The store will not offer any great competition to any other establishments now doing business here and will be a factor in bringing outside people into Middlesboro, shippers that will also help other businesses.

"We have had our eye on Middlesboro for a long time," Mr. Sward explained. "We estimate its trading population at 30,000 and see possibilities for a big business here."

Chiefly, to build up a spirit of good will and to have influential men as boosters for the store, a small amount of stock will be sold to local citizens. Mr. Sward, who is a representative of the security department of the organization, stated:

YOUNG L. M. U. STUDENT DIES THERE LAST NIGHT Fred Goddard, age about 17 years, student of the Lincoln Memorial University, died there last night. The home of the student was述told. The physician, two hospital nurses and such were present when he died. The body will be removed to Middlesboro, Tenn., his former residence until

Central Figures in Louisville Torture Murder

Here are the surgical instruments Heaton had brought to the improvised operating room he had set up in the deserted house where he and his allies killed Gates. Doctors believe the instruments were selected by someone familiar with every phase of modern glamor surgery.

Richard Heaton, wealthy Louisville broker, who, according to police, spent approximately $100,000 and many months time in planning the operation. Surgeons say instruments selected were the best obtainable. And he planned, detectives say, to have buried the body and Gates died.

Mrs. Mary Leahy Wiesen Heaton, widow of the slain broker, who was being trailed by private detectives her husband had hired. Heaton, in his fanatic state of mind, accused her of intimacy with Gates, long an intimate friend of both.

Bachelor Member of Congress Boasts Most Mayflower Blood

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—George Holden Tinkham, bachelor representative from Boston on the Mayflower, Nov. 11, 1620, when the Pilgrims were dividing the organization of the colony they were to found, five were fated to become ancestors of the future member from the Back Bay district.

In other words, George Holden lays claim to five Mayflower forbears, such claim being duly attested by the Society of Mayflower Descendants, which investigated Tinkham's genealogical status before admitting him to membership.

With such an ancestral record, one may wonder how Tinkham escaped these 51 years the plans of designing mamas, who saw in him an opportunity for the daughters to marry into the Mayflower aristocracy. But George Holden is a brave man, and, in spite of the heavy odds, he has held onto his bachelor status.

Tinkham's favorite sport is big game hunting in Africa, except when Congress is in session. At that time his favorite recreation is baiting the Anti-Saloon League and firing occasional volleys in favor of the return of wine and beer for the working man. For Tinkham doesn't believe his Puritan ancestors, for all their stern views of right and wrong, would have approved present-day prohibition.

As an added distinction, Tinkham qualifies as the bald, man in Congress as well as the member with the most luxuriant whiskers.

Tinkham, confessed slayer of Heaton, attended the hearing, which was held in Judge William H. Field's courtroom.

Mrs. Heaton told the Coroner's Jury also that another reason she did not tell police when her husband had imprisoned Gates because she believed he was only running a bluff.

Mrs. Heaton testified the slain broker had informed her he spent $75,000 in the last four years in tracing men he suspected of intimacy with her. She also testified to having been in Chicago with him when he made many purchases, supposedly of the outfit of surgical instruments. She did not see these in Chicago but knew her husband got many bundles.

Heaton studied hypnotism and made an effort to weave a hypnotic spell over her, the widow testified.

Then why didn't you go there?" she more asked.

Fletcher had to think fast for a fitting answer.

" Didn't have enough gasoline," he said.

The county physician attempted then this morning. Both were tormented, swollen and sore. The doctor made twelve stitches in Osborne's head. Rouse was bitten badly about the hands.

Both men were so sore they could hardly move.

Strangely enough, they were friendly this morning. Each gave the other credit for being a good scrapper.

Osborne, who has been served over seas, says he has never yet met a cool, smart and rains probably first part.

For three days, William C. Gates was held prisoner in a "torture house" in Louisville. Bound hand and foot by strands of rope fastened to the thoroly heavy staples, he saw his captor, Ward H. Heyton, wealthy Louisville broker, preparing to perform an operation that would have maimed him for life, if it had not brought his death. With almost superhuman strength, he finally succeeded in freeing himself, obtained Gates' revolver and killed the broker.

CORONER'S JURY CLEARS GATES

Says He Was Justified In Slashing Heaton—Widow Testifies

LOUISVILLE, Mar. 15.—The killing of Richard Heaton, merchandise broker, by William Gates in the "mystery house" at 457 South Thirty-fourth street, was "justifiable," a coroner's jury verdict returned yesterday held. The inquest was the first public hearing of the sensational homicide. It was featured by the testimony of the widow, Mrs. Mary Leahy Wiesen Heaton, who said that she knew as early as January of her mate's plot to impale on Gates; that she, though his threats against Gates were only bluff and that her lips were sealed regarding the plans because her husband had threatened to kill her and their baby if she revealed them.

Further evidence that Heaton had threatened death as the penalty he would inflict for revelations of his purpose was the testimony of his business partner, William A. Fletcher.

The jury's verdict read:

"We find from the evidence that Richard Heaton came to his death from gunshot wounds inflicted by William Gates and that the same was justifiable."

Gates, confessed slayer of Heaton, attended the hearing, which was held in Judge William H. Field's courtroom.

Mrs. Heaton told the Coroner's Jury also that another reason she did not tell police when her husband had imprisoned Gates because she believed he was only running a bluff.

Mrs. Heaton testified the slain broker had informed her he spent $75,000 in the last four years in tracing men he suspected of intimacy with her. She also testified to having been in Chicago with him when he made many purchases, supposedly of the outfit of surgical instruments.

MOVIE MAN TELLS HOW DEMPSEY, CARPENTIER FIGHT FILMS WERE SHOWN IN VIOLATION OF LAWS

START ON ROADS IF BONDS APPROVED

Counties Need Wait If No Further Instructions, Interpreter Shows

FRANKFORT, Ky., Mar. 15.—Counties may start immediately on highway plans if the $75,000,000 consolidated bond issue is approved at the election, according to an interpretation of the highway law made by interested parties. A section of the highway law, recently enacted by the General Assembly in the passage of House Bill 417, introduced by Representative Frank L. Strange, Bowling Green, and approved by Governor Fields, authorizes the State Highway Commission to issue interest-bearing warrants on which counties may proceed with road work.

The law regarding their feature is as follows:

"The commission shall have full power to carry out all contracts which may have been entered into under the state aid law, and the state shall be fully bound to pay its part of the construction of roads under the state aid law, and the said commission is hereby authorized to certify to the auditor the amount due any county where the full amount due is determinable, and the author of public accounts is hereby authorized to draw his warrant or warrants for each sum as is shown by the construction of roads under the state aid law. Such warrants shall be made payable to the county treasurer or to any person the county, through its Fiscal Court, may direct, and the county, or such person may direct, the auditor in what denominations said warrants shall be drawn. Said warrants shall be payable from the state aid fund and shall be in the same form as warrants drawn by the auditor on the general fund, if there be not sufficient money in the road fund to meet such debts when so certified, then said warrants shall be so drawn as to bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent annually, payable semi-annually on the first day of January and the first day of July."

LET THE GOOD WORK CONTINUE

The work of the towns in this section of the state called forth favorable comment from the Paducah Sun in a recent editorial. The Sun is especially impressed with the idea of raising these funds by a voluntary tax of one cent on each gallon of gasoline sold. It says:

An unselfish and inspiring effort to promote the cause of good roads in Kentucky is reflected in the action of mountain and Blue Grass cities and towns to complete an eastern arm of the Dixie highway from Covington to Middlesboro, Kentucky.

The successful completion of this road project will carry the Dixie highway from its Ohio terminus through central Kentucky to the mountains and passing through Middlesboro and Cumberland Gap, join it to the Virginia good roads system and thence onward. It will mean that the most rugged and beautiful section of Kentucky, the great eastern hills, will be opened up to tourist travel and permit the automobile to glimpse at its natural wonders which he could now obtain in automobile travel only by circling outside the state and approaching from Tennessee or Virginia.

This sort of independent effort places a direct tax on the people who support it, but it is one sure way of getting necessary work done and those who give it will more than reap an equal value in return benefits. The towns engaged in the enterprise are to be commended for their zeal and it may well be hoped the example will cause a spread of the idea.

A great demand for politeness is being caused by its shortage.

TWO CARRIERS ADDED TO LOCAL POSTAL SERVICE

Addition of two auxiliary carriers to the service at the Middlesboro post office will do much to relieve the congestion of mail. Many patrons will get quicker deliveries of mail now.

The men will each work about two hours per day and each will deliver mail on a part of the other carriers' route. The additional service has been granted by the postal department which could not, in view of existing traffic conditions, grant a route extension.

The present city delivery service of packages will continue as long as the postal appropriations allow it, R. F. Hetheron, assistant postmaster, announced.

SATURDAY

Prayer and Will of God

Read Mt. 26:39-46. Text: 26:42. Again a second time he went away, and prayed, saying . . . the will be done.

The whole subject of prayer clears up somewhat when we recognize that prayer is not an effort to bend God's will, to persuade God to do something that he would rather not do, but that it is the reverent opening of the heart and mind to such incoming of the feeling and thought of God as may be appropriate to the situation in which we find ourselves. There is need to take account, too, of human frailty and shortsightedness.

Meditation: How much we might be helped if we but knew the rest of this prayer of Jesus! If we had all his words would they not but express in other ways this same deep consecration and longing of his inner life—"Thy will be done!" May our hearts be brought into such happy accord with our Father God that we shall be able to say "Thy will be done" in our lives also, and may we have peace in following the leadings of his spirit.

Personal Question: Can I say "Thy will be done?"

Prayer: O, our Father, we pray, that thou will lift our souls into fellowship with thee. May we labor with thee, in the consciousness of thy approval may we find blessed rest and peace, thru Christ. Amen.

Political Faith Hereditary?

This funny story went the rounds in support of their party's candidates.

In this atmosphere, a Republican father taught his boys that Democrats were satanic. Democratic parents said the name of their rivals, Politics isn't taken as seriously now. Average intelligence is higher.

Voters think more for themselves. And the old-time elections were sometimes what in the nature of national drunks.

"Huh?" grunted the Whig. "If your old relatives, even long before, grandfather and grandmother had both been fools, what would you be?"

"A Whig," the Tory answered sweetly.

ENT IN THE HOLY LAND

Damascus Gate, Jerusalem. Although this entrance was not in existence until the 10th Century, when Soliman the Magnificent extended the walls of the Holy City, Damascus gate, on the north wall, is one of the most important means of reaching Jerusalem. Through it daily come the Arab traders, bringing their wares into Jerusalem, even as they did in the days of Christ.

THE

Even as the shepherds who watched the star when Christ was born, so do the Palestine shepherds of today tend their flock in the hills of Judea. This Twentieth Century patriarch, save for his figurine, is practically the same type as those who journeyed to the Manger.

Events in Jerusalem in many instances are the same today as when Jesus traversed them with his disciples. This particular scene shows what is said to be the house of the "rich man" mentioned in Luke.

LINCOLN'S OFFICE BOY ADDS TO LORE ABOUT LIBERATOR

OMAHA, Mar. 15.—Eppenette McIntosh, 75, a civil war veteran and former office boy for Abraham Lincoln when the latter was a lawyer at Springfield, Ill., became a painter because the Emanuel painter started him in this trade. He continued as a painter until his age no longer would permit him to climb ladders and paint buildings.

In commemorating the birthday of the former president, McIntosh, who was the first member of the Grand Army of the Republic, related that Lincoln had mixed his first white lead for him and then described how he spent two days painting Lincoln's campaign tour. When the job was completed Lincoln selected McIntosh to clean out his office, which he continued to do for about three years.

"Sometimes he would give me a quarter and then again he would give me fifty cents, but in those days you could buy a bushel of potatoes for three cents," said McIntosh in telling of his pay.

When he was seven years old, McIntosh related, Lincoln bought him a drum, carried by the aged veteran throughout the war, and which now hangs in the national museum at Washington.

When Lincoln was debating the wool question with Stephen Douglas, his opponent for the presidency in 1860, McIntosh accompanied him as his drummer on several of his campaign tours. The only compensation he ever received, McIntosh declared, were his expenses.

After Douglas had completed his

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The High School chapel Friday morning was in charge of the students of Miss Morrow's home room. The program consisted of a comedy sketch which took place in the office of the "Warpark" Vodvil Bureau. Henry Gleser took the part of president of the bureau and Missis Moyers and Frank Kearne took the parts of his assistants. Several acts were presented which included a reading by Inez Townes, a lecture by Ruby Webster, a bullet dance by Lola Smith, a solo by Clara Tucker, a piano duet by Madeline Whitaker and Audrey Pippin, and a trio by Billie Haynes, Charles Cochran, and Clarence Spangler. This was one of the most enjoyable programs ever presented in chapel and was enjoyed very much by the student body.

Word was received Friday that the Senior class rings are on the way. The Seniors are anxiously awaiting their arrival and hope to get them the first of next week.

Work on the Senior play "Come Out of the Kitchen" is progressing rapidly. The characters are learning their parts and learning how to present them. The play will be given April 18.

The Freshman issue of the Bounder appeared this week. The largest part of the material in this issue was written by the Freshmen. This is

First Pictures of Mine Disaster

The long wait of Castle Gate miners was over yesterday. The men left the mine from work. But for many it's their last homecoming. At 17:00 they were killed in the explosion that wrecked Mine No. 2. Here is a picture of the little grief-stricken town in the morning after the disaster.

Deadly gases that filled the shaft and exploded after the castle gate explosion hampered the work of rescue teams. Here are members of the relief parties, nearly overcome, out for breath of air.

This opening, just south of the main entrance, before the castle gate explosion, was an entrance to the mine. It is 500 feet from the point underground where the blast is believed to have occurred. Torn and twisted timbers from this point were thrown more than 1000 feet across the entrance.

LOCALS

Walter Cady of Corbin attended the dance at the Hotel Cumberland.

W H Gibson of the Gibson Bros firm delivered a handsome Baldwin grand piano to Miss Fannie Leaman at Pineville yesterday. The piano was a gift from Mrs M G Leaman to her daughter.

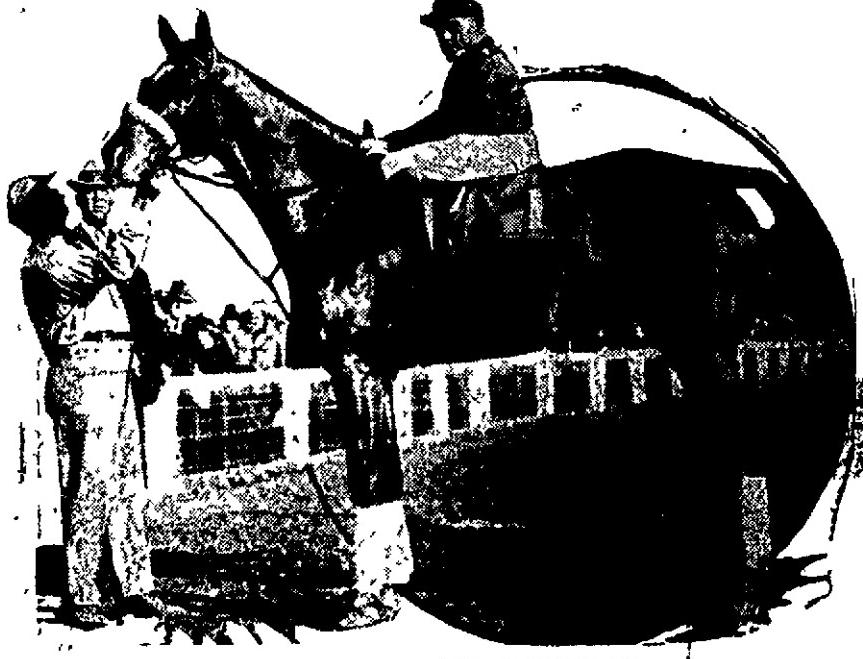

Miss Jewell Tye of Barboursville was visiting here last night and attended the dance at the Hotel Cumberland.

LEAVES ESTATE OF $16,000 TO UNITED STATES TREASURY

LANCASTER, Ohio, Mar. 15.—A vow made by Wesley Jordan, 75 years old, a farmer, who died recently, that he would pay his 'debt of gratitude' to the government for liberty and happiness under the Stars and Stripes will be fulfilled.

The estate is valued at $16,000.

EXTERMINATOR WITH JOCKEY A. CLAWER UP.

Old Exterminator will be the favorite colt at the Tin Juan track March 30, the date for the running of the mile and a quarter Coffroth Handicap. The Coffroth Handicap, feature event of the Tin Juan Jockey Club, carrying $40,000 added money and $1500 to the winner. Exterminator is the richest all age stake in America. Exterminator, who was counted down and out about six months ago, because of an injured leg, seems to have recovered, as he is held favorite among the 100 horses entered.

YOUR GARDEN

ARTICLE NO. 5

There are a number of crops, such as snap beans, lettuce, radishes, and beets which should be planted at intervals throughout the season in order to insure a continuous supply.

But do not set in the open vegetables such as peppers, squashes, eggplants and peppers until the soil has been thoroughly warmed because the varieties thrive best in hot or warm weather.

Snap beans can be planted as many as five times during the season.

Remember that late planting or transplanting in the open give harder plants and prolong the set of usefulness.

Don't take risks in the open too soon. While danger from frost still exists, make use of your window boxes, hothouse and coldframe. That's what such things are for.

They'll help you beat any check Old Man Winter tries to play in the way of unexpected return visits.
